Young Kohl of Chicago Wants His Marriage to Vinie Daly Annulled.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—John P. Kohl, son of Charles E. Kohl, president of the Kohl and Castle Amusement company, who recently figured in an elopement with Miss Vinie Daly, a vaudeville actress, told Judge Walker yesterday that his honeymoon lasted less than half an hour. With his father he appeared in court and asked for legal separation on the ground that he was a minor when the marriage ceremony was performed. After the older Mr. Kohl had testified to his son's lack of experience and poor judgment young Kohl told the court how he happened to marry the actress. "I met her in Chicago while she was filling an engagement," testified Kohl. "Vinie asked me to marry her and not to tell my parents until I was of age."

"Did she ask you many times to marry her?" asked Attorney Levy Mayer, who represented the vaudeville man.

"Oh, yes, on many occasions, but I always refused until the last time," he said.

Young Kohl then told of running away from Oconomowoc, Wis., where he had been spending the summer, and of meeting the actress at Keith's theatre in Philadelphia, and of the subsequent marriage. "After we were married," he said, "we returned at once to the theatre, where she played her part. I waited for her and after the show I told my bride I was sorry for what I had done. I left her then and took the first train back to Chicago and told my mother all about it."

Best Way.

"Tell me," said the lovelorn youth "what's the best way to find out what a woman thinks of you?" "Marry her," replied Poekham promptly.—Catholic Times.

is located on Beckley street, about five minutes' walk from Main street electric car line, and from six to eight minutes from a large number of Barre's most up to date granite works. A large amount of money has been expended on this tract in plotting and building streets and we believe it is now one of the best parcels ever offered in this vicinity either at private or public sale.

It is especially well adapted for homes for the working man, as it is near the stone sheds and most of the lots are large, affording plenty of ground for a house, barn and garden, very pleasantly located, with fine views.

As an investment these lots are sure to be profitable. Tenements erected on them would rent before they were completed. Property in this section has, and is, appreciating in value rapidly and lots in this tract will double or treble in value within a few years.
